

Your Edge.
Our Expertise.
Advancing Dairy Nutrition.

What can we help you solve today?

A Leader in Dairy Nutrition

ADM provides high-quality, science-based nutritional solutions to thousands of dairy producers throughout the US and around the world, meeting producers' individual needs in an ever-changing industry. With experienced and passionate dairy specialists and nutritionists, and a portfolio incorporating the latest global innovations, we work with you to understand your goals while interfacing our resources and expertise with a nutrition program designed to drive your success today and into the future.

Experience Support Teams at the Local Level

From our hands-on dairy specialists, nutritionists and researchers, we bring the support to you. Our ADM team works side by side with you to develop individualized nutritional solutions and feeding programs that focus on efficiency and profitability for your operation.

Solutions That Work for You

From your available resources to your management objectives, your operation is unique. That's why ADM provides the most comprehensive portfolio to meet your needs. With extensive ingredient options and an expansive professional network, our solutions-based approach means every program is tailored to drive peak nutritional performance.

Proven Applications for Dairy Performance

At ADM, we leverage our extensive global network focused on R&D to bring new innovations to local markets. Our commitment to the development and advancement of feeding solutions to drive your profitability is evident in our investment of 13 research facilities and over 40 university partnerships around the world. Let us put this innovation to work for you. Let us give you the edge.